

Linguistics Department Research Forum

December 4, 2008 – 1:30 p.m.

Clearihue A127

1. Carolyn Pytlyk (M.A. graduate, Ph.D. student):
“This sentence sucks to analyse: Verbs as tough-predicates”
2. Qian Wang (Ph.D. candidate): “Stress Perception and Production by L2 Learners”
3. Abbey Bell (M.A. student): “Interactional Feedback in ESL Teaching”
4. Andrew Cienski (M.A. student): “Crossing Cultures, Crossing Languages: Issues in Translating Coast Salish Oral History”
5. Allison Benner (Ph.D. candidate): “Out of the Mouths of Babes: Adult Perceptions of Infant Vocalizations”

PIZZA TO BE PROVIDED AT THE RESEARCH FORUM