NOTICE TO STUDENTS IN GREEK AND ROMAN STUDIES

The Margareta von Rudloff Travel Assistance Fund

The Department of Greek and Roman Studies invites applications for awards from The Margareta von Rudloff Travel Assistance Fund. One or more of these awards may be made annually on the basis of application to the Department. The funding for this award comes from an endowment generously provided by Mrs. Margareta von Rudloff of Victoria, the income of which is dedicated to supporting travel needs for graduate or senior undergraduate students taking their degrees in Greek and Roman Studies, by providing funds to deliver papers at conferences, to participate in special academic programs or archaeological excavations, or to visit libraries, museums, and classical sites.

A limited amount of funds will be available for this early call. Applications should be submitted to the Chair, Department of Greek and Roman Studies by 30 January 2009. The result of the competition will be announced by 15 February 2009. The Department reserves the right to make a single award, two or more separate awards, or no award at all, if the number or quality of applications is deemed insufficient. In the first instance, preference will be given to students who have not already received an award from this fund.

Applications should consist of a letter explaining the purpose, date, and estimated cost of the trip envisaged, including a statement of approximately 250 words, describing the project and indicating what the applicant hopes to accomplish through the travel.
